LETTER FROM THE KASSER FAMILY ARTISTIC DIRECTOR SEAN DANIELS

We are HALFWAY through our return season, so I just want to take a moment to express some gratitude for all of you.

Not only did we make it here, but tonight we get to celebrate the decades-ahead-of-its-time activism of Nina Simone, and next up we experience the ripped-from-the-headlines feel of the new musical Justice. It's clear that not only has ATC made it through the pandemic but is thriving.

Above all, I want to make sure you know that it takes A LOT of people to make this place thrive in such a tough time. You probably already know Geri Wright, our Managing Director, and Paula Taylor, who leads our Marketing and Development work.

But there are so many folks behind the scenes who you probably don't know: Becky Merold, who is this theatre's glue; Chanel Bragg, who is my daily call when I'm down or inspired or need to strategize; Kristi Hess, who is the force that moves everything forward; Chris Moseley, who is building the Education Department I dreamed of when I first came to this theatre as a young lad; Michele Volansky, who is not only hilarious but equally dedicated to how we support playwrights while educating our audience; Elaine Romero, who has been holding down the fort for decades, always pushing for expanding opportunities for all; chris peña, hype man of all things brilliant; Matt DeVore, who is easily the greatest leader of a sound department I have worked with (I didn't get to work with Brian); Josh Quach, who is new but already dedicated to making our artists feel like Arizona is their home; Nick Cianciotto, who connects with artistic like no one's business; Nils Emerson, who is actually not a burnt out technical director and I wish you realized how rare that is; Charlotte Alcorn, who is so good you don't even know what's painted; Tim Smith, who has brought order to the lighting department; Sheldon Lane, who is our production backbone; Sara Pugh, who is the rare combination of talented and delightful; Bitty Rosenberg, who is the Marketing Department's not-so-secret weapon; and Dom/Glenn/Mollie/Olsen, who are Team Stage Management – and let's be honest – without them we're all kids who buried our toys in the sandbox and can't find them.

There are so many many more ... these are just some of the people at ATC who dedicate their days and nights to making theatre for you.

Being an Artistic Director of a theatre during COVID is one of the hardest jobs I've ever had. But don't feel sorry for me – I don't – as I get to work with all the people above, and it's because of them that halfway through a season that we all feared would never start, we're kicking some real butt.

And THANKS TO YOU! If you're a supporter, a donor, or just here for the first time, I'm grateful glad you're here with us.

Many of you may know that Arizona Theatre Company is a LORT (League of Resident Theatres) theatre – which means that we employ the highest caliber actors/designers to create what you see on stage. Being a LORT theatre enables us to collectively bargain with the unions we work with for each production.

There are only 75 LORT theatres in the United States, and ATC (yes, YOUR theatre) is the only one that produces in two cities – Tucson and Phoenix. The life of a producing theatre takes a lot of time, talent, and treasure. And that's before anyone sees the finished product on stage. ATC's productions come to life in Tucson, where our talented Production team works to build the sets, and our exceptional Costume Shop creates the costumes. Casting calls are held nationally and locally to find the right talent. In just four weeks before Opening Night – and three weeks before Previews are on stage for audiences – rehearsals start and the technology, stage, and every little detail are perfected. Yes, it's ready for stage in just three weeks.

THEN, we pack it all up, drive 113 miles up the highway, rehouse all the actors and staff needed to produce the show, and remount the entire set for another two-and-a-half weeks of performances at the Herberger Center. While the show is live in Phoenix, we start the next production in Tucson. And on it goes for six shows of a season.

At best, this is a complicated logistical process, and it takes a multitude of professionals to pull this off for the season. Under normal circumstances, it is a demanding pace. Throw in trying to keep everyone healthy and well, let's say it is challenging.

And that is where my comments lead today. We do this because of YOU. We all believe in and enjoy live quality theatre that has the potential to inspire curiosity and creativity, to spark empathy and joy. We at ATC do it because we believe that the power of theatre provides a respite from our daily lives, stretches our thinking, and challenges our assumptions while building stronger communities. Thank you for being part of our community.

We are here today not just because of you but for you.

We are grateful for your continued interest in and support of ATC and hope you enjoy this production of Nina Simone: Four Women.

All My Best. Always.

Christina Ham's Nina Simone: Four Women gives us a glimpse into the artistry and activism of one of the most powerful voices in American song history, Nina Simone. By looking at her life's work through the lens of three other women – a housekeeper, an activist, and a prostitute on the day of the Birmingham church bombing on September 15, 1963 – we see how the Nina Simone we now know came to be.

WHO WAS NINA SIMONE?

Born Eunice Kathleen Waymon in the middle of the Great Depression (1933) in Tryon, North Carolina, Simone was the daughter of a handyman and a Methodist minister who recognized early on that she had musical talent; she was playing the piano at age 3 and was taught Bach, Chopin, Brahms, Beethoven, and Schubert soon after. She graduated first in her class and, in an extraordinary expression of their support, Tryon raised money to send her to Allen High School for Girls in Asheville, NC, and then Julliard, where she studied classical piano. Her plan was to study at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, but she was denied admission.

Stung by the rejection but determined to perform, the former Eunice Kathleen Waymon changed her name to Nina Simone (to avoid embarrassing her family, who had moved to Philadelphia anticipating her enrollment at Curtis) and began playing at clubs in Atlantic City, New Jersey. Because of her training in the classics, and as a student of jazz and blues, Simone soon found success. Her fame was solidified when, in 1958, she charted with her version of George Gershwin's "I Loves You, Porgy."

As a Black woman in the United States during the Civil Rights Era, Simone faced the racism and sexism that permeated the world around her. According to her, it was the murder of Addie Mae Collins, Carol Denise McNair, Carole Robertson, and Cynthia Wesley that compelled her to fuse her musical talents with her anger and despair.

The result was “Mississippi Goddam,” a song that was featured on her 1964 album Nina Simone in Concert. The rage is palpable:

*I can't stand the pressure much longer
Somebody say a prayer
Alabama's gotten me so upset
Tennessee made me lose my rest
And everybody knows about Mississippi Goddam
This is a show tune
But the show hasn't been written for it, yet
Hound dogs on my trail
School children sitting in jail
Black cat cross my path
I think every day's gonna be my last
Lord have mercy on this land of mine
We all gonna get it in due time
I don't belong here
I don't belong there
I've even stopped believing in prayer*

Nina Simone: Four Women introduces this Simone to Sarah (who doesn't sing the blues, but has lived it), Sephronia (a light-skinned Black woman who looks for acceptance in her community through her work with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.), and Sweet Thing (a fighter who uses her looks to get where she wants to go but does not always succeed). The women share their own stories and, by doing so, help shape Simone's determination to keep pushing her voice louder in support of justice for not only the four girls in Birmingham, but for all African Americans, particularly the women. The women tell Simone, “You're still going be singing for some folks that don't want to hear what you have to say.”

Indeed, “Mississippi Goddam” was boycotted across the South, but Simone went on to speak at Civil Rights marches, subscribing to the beliefs of Malcolm X and other Black nationalists, and challenging the laws that prevented her from staying in hotels or performing in Southern venues. Her frustration came out in her music, from songs like “Old Jim Crow” and “To Be Young, Gifted and Black” (inspired by the Lorraine Hansberry play), but ultimately, Simone found a more receptive audience in first Barbados (where she moved in 1970), the Netherlands, and then Aix-en-Provence, France.

As you listen to the play, pay close attention to the lyrics. Simone's artistry comes from a perfect fusion of words, music, and a voice that is singular – in it you can hear her heart searching, her fists clenched, and her dreams soaring. There has never been another one like her.

Meet Kish Finnegan, the talented costume designer for the world premiere of Justice.

Chanel Bragg

In each show guide, Associate Artistic Director Chanel Bragg highlights a member of the cast or creative team who is not only local to Arizona but exemplifies excellence within their field. At the top of this year, Bragg interviewed Arizona Theatre Company's very own Kish Finnegan, the talented costume designer for the world premiere of Justice. Finnegan is one of ATC's main costume shop attendants and identifies as a Californian turned Tucsonan more than 30 years ago! Bragg and Finnegan cozied up in the Green Room at the Temple of Music and Art to connect while Kish was on break from helping with the Women in Jeopardy! costumes.

Q: What is your role here at the theatre?

A: Resident costume designer and design assistant. I am also the costume designer for our fifth show this season, Justice!

Q: How long have you been in this industry?

A: Oh goodness, in the industry? Well, I kind of sort of started making different costumes and things as a teenager. So that's a couple of years ago (laughing). I've been with ATC for 34 years and before that, I worked in California (Los Angeles) for a couple of years and went to school there. But yes, I started a long time ago.

Q: Where did you study?

A: I went to California Institute for the Arts (Cal Arts). I studied production design technology and costume design.

Q: When did you know you were called to design costumes for theatre specifically?

A: I was a synchronized swimmer for years and years. Which is now called artistic swimming. I used to live in Santa Clara, and from the age of 6, I made costumes for the U.S. Synchronized Swimming team. That was how I really got started. I was making headpieces, costumes, and stuff like that. After I retired, I designed for a couple of aquacades and found myself in a little show in Las Vegas called Splash.

Q: Like the movie? You were in Splash the musical?

A: I was in Splash! I was performing as one of the synchronized swimmers in the tank! There were two of us, and we swam around on stage alongside showgirls, fireworks, dancers ... all sorts of things happened. Anyway, my costume fitting was in Los Angeles at Bob Mackie's studio, where I met Pete Menefee. It was Pete who helped me recognize I wanted to be a costume designer for theater. I don't really care what the trendy fashions are; as a kid I always dressed weird ... I never really liked what was popular.

Q: How did you find yourself in Arizona?

A: In the '80s, I got a scholarship to the University of Arizona to swim for their synchronized swimming team. Half of the [U.S. Synchronized Swimming] team was from Arizona and the other half attended Ohio State. During the year, we would compete against each other, but in the summer, we competed together as the U.S. Synchronized Swimming team. After I graduated from Cal Arts and was contemplating leaving LA, I remembered how much I love Tucson. Visiting for Christmas, I made a cold phone call to ATC that I was in town for a little bit and asked if they needed any help in the costume shop. Dave Nicholson happened to be working at ATC and because of our Cal Arts connection, I was hired on the spot. The rest is history, as I met my husband of 30 years and we had two wonderful boys that grew up in this very Green Room.

Q: What is inspiring your design for Justice?

A: Ruth and Sandra, of course. Sandra was famous for purple, which made a lot of sense because I didn't want to focus on "party colors." I think, symbolically, she loved purple to be "just." You know, I met Sandra Day O'Connor, literally, in the Safeway up the street several years ago after she retired. She taught workshops for the University of Arizona, and I was coming home from work, and I stopped at the Safeway up the street near the University. I was picking up poblano chiles (I'm originally from New Mexico), and when I whipped around the corner, I almost crashed into Sandra Day O'Connor's cart going in the opposite direction. She looked at my chiles and said, "Oh what are you making with those?" I told her, "I grill them!" I suddenly realized, I'm talking to THE Sandra Day O'Connor!!! I was so nervous I started to stammer. She was the nicest woman who shared how much she loved chiles. After she walked away, a grocer and I geeked out over the encounter.

Q: If you had a theme song following you around, what would it be?

A: "Livin' La Vida Loca"

Q: What advice would you impart to a young designer about being your most authentic self?

A: Trust your instincts and don't be intimidated about what you want. Especially if someone tries to make you feel insecure about it.

Q: If you had the power to mandate anything in the world, what would it be?

A: To take more time and really listen to people. It's so easy to get buried in the minutiae of life, especially in this business. We should take the time to really listen to each other.

JUSTICE

A MUSICAL

Book by Lauren Gunderson Music by Bree Lowdermilk Lyrics by Kait Kerrigan

Directed by Melissa Crespo

A world-premiere musical journey with two of the world's most iconic women at the height of their power.

It is 1993, and Ruth Bader Ginsburg has just joined the United States Supreme Court; the first and only other woman there, Sandra Day O'Connor, is ready to welcome her and get to work. In an intimate, epic three-person new musical built of sweeping songs, urgent conversations about equality, and truly human heroines, we come to know these two iconic justices at the height of their power. Through a third character, Vera, rising through the ranks of the law, we discover how O'Connor and Ginsburg inspire, challenge, and propel the next generation of changemakers and trailblazers in American jurisprudence. Ruth, Sandra and Vera confront each other about equal justice under the law, strategy, civil rights, husbands, kids, dreams, sorrows, and how to set a new course for our country and the world.

HOW TO MAKE AN American Son

By christopher oscar peñaDirected by Kimberly SeniorIn association with Rattlestick Playwrights TheaterRecipient of
NEA GRANTS FOR ARTS PROJECTS

A THRILLING NEW WORK HEADING TO OFF-BROADWAY!

Don't miss this moving new play about the complexities of privilege, citizenship, and the most complex relationship of all: family. A "Model Immigrant" and business mogul, Honduran-born Mando's cleaning empire is bracing for a downturn at the exact same moment when he must rein in his over-privileged American son Orlando. In the wake of a personal crisis, Orlando suddenly finds himself responsible for the fate of a treasured undocumented worker and the future of his father's entire enterprise. What happens when the promise of the American Dream collides with the reality of immigration and family?

Authored by christopher oscar peña, the new Artistic Associate at Arizona Theatre Company, this play, after having its world premiere, will go to Off-Broadway in collaboration with Rattlestick Playwrights Theater. "I wrote this play because immigrants were sold the idea of the American Dream," peña said. "I was thinking of my father and how incredible he is. What he's done, his accomplishments in this country in the face of insurmountable odds to survive. I wrote this because, in many ways, it's a love letter to him."

WE INSPIRE CREATIVITY ACROSS THE STATE

ATC delivers inspiring experiences in a number of ways, both connected to our stage and beyond our walls, in schools, and across the state.

OUR PROGRAMS INCLUDE:

ATCteen

ATCteen is a program designed with the student in mind. We are actors, directors, writers, designers, improvisers, and theatregoers. ATCteen brings together a diverse group of teens ages 13-18 from the Tucson area. We write, direct, and perform in our own productions, see plays from local theatre companies, explore different ATC departments through interactive workshops, and get behind-the-scenes looks at what happens at Arizona Theatre Company through workshops and interactions with professional artists.

DAVID IRA GOLDSTEIN ARTIST-IN-RESIDENCE PROGRAM

Residency programs are 10-week intensive in-school workshops available to middle and high school drama departments. Students and teachers learn from professional teaching artists in a content area of their choice. These specialized and unique experiences allow students to deepen their learning and sharpen their skills in theatre arts. Residency topics include acting techniques, improv, stage combat, Shakespeare, devised theatre, and more.

STUDENT MATINEE SERIES

Student Matinees allow ATC to share the live theatre experience at low or no cost to young people. (For elementary, middle school, high school, and college groups).

SUMMER ON STAGE

Summer On Stage is a dual track, seven-week intensive theatre training program for high school theatre students.

Performance Track: Students will develop performance skills and experience a professional rehearsal process with Summer on Stage. ATC staff and teaching artists support an extraordinary summer learning experience, leading participants through a variety of acting, voice and movement classes, and rehearsals leading to a fully produced performance at the historic Temple of Music and Art, Downtown Tucson.

Technical Theatre Track: Participants will develop a technical theatre portfolio and learn from ATC's team of professional designers and technicians. Students will learn sound, lighting, costume, and scenic design, as well as experience the process of mounting and running a fully realized production.

YOUR SUPPORT MAKES THESE VITAL PROGRAMS POSSIBLE.

THE ROADMAP TO AN ATC PRODUCTION

PLAY IS WRITTEN

Sometimes it takes 2 days, sometimes it takes 20 years. Sometimes it comes in whole, sometimes it comes in pieces or waves. It is written and rewritten over and over. It is hard work creating something out of nothing.

DESIGN MEETINGS

(1 year before opening)
Design meetings are held so the whole team can meet and talk about what the production will look, sound, and feel like, based on how they have interpreted the play. Designs will be workshopped in a manner similar to the play itself, with various drafts of all aspects considered and discussed.

PUBLICITY, MARKETING, & FUNDRAISING

Plays need audiences, so the publicity and marketing team is hard at work looking for ways to entice both Tucson and Phoenix communities to come and see the show. The development team is also fundraising from individuals, corporations, foundations, and the government to make sure the money is there to pay for the production.

THE PRODUCTION IS CAST

(6-12 MONTHS before opening)
Auditions let the director and playwright find actors who are able to fill the needed roles – a cast is selected based on talent, how right they are for the role, and sometimes just because it feels right. At this point, technical workers like lighting crew, stage crew, and others may be assigned or hired.

WEEK OF PREVIEWS IN TUCSON

(1 week before opening Night)
By this time, the play has transformed itself into a full production, but it needs just a bit more time to make sure that everything is running smoothly. Sometimes there are adjustments to the play itself, occasionally tweaks to design elements. The goal is to put everything together while also seeing how an audience responds to the work.

TUCSON AND PHOENIX RUN

Arizona Theatre Company is the only LORT theater in the United States that has audiences in two cities, so during the show's run in Tucson, publicity for the show in Phoenix intensifies. The stage manager ensures that the production stays on track and makes adjustments as necessary.

Arizona Theatre Company puts our artists and audience at the heart of all we do. ATC's performances bring people together on our stages to experience essential stories about what it means to be alive today, from reimagined classics to contemporary plays, original works, and innovative musicals fostering continued conversation beyond the theatre walls.

Founded in 1966 and celebrating its 54th season, ATC is led by The Kasser Family Artistic Director Sean Daniels and Managing Director Geri Wright. ATC operates in two major cities, unlike any other LORT theatre in the country, and is recognized as the official State theatre.

Each season, ATC collaborates with world-class artists to create productions and programs about what it means to be alive today, inspiring curiosity and sparking joy, bringing all Arizonans together.

ATC shares the power of theatre through a variety of outreach programs, educational opportunities, access initiatives, and community events. Including our nationally recognized ATCteen program and National Latinx Playwright Award, ATC focuses on training artists, audiences, and community members about the creative power of theatre reaching far beyond the metropolitan areas of Tucson and Phoenix, enriching the theatre learning experience for all.

ATC SUPPORTS ITS VITAL MISSION WITH THESE KEY INITIATIVES:

ATC Mainstage

Each season, ATC produces six mainstage productions, bringing together the best talent from across Arizona, the country, and the world. ATC playwrights, directors, designers, actors, and production teams represent the finest artists and technicians working today.

Engagement in Phoenix and Tucson

ATC provides a place for communities across Arizona to gather, share, and explore the art-making process.

New Play Development

ATC provides playwrights and theater makers, both locally and internationally, a place to develop their work. Through workshops and readings, we give artists a place to incubate and launch productions, both at ATC and beyond. ATC is also proud to support emerging voices with the annual National Latinx Playwright Award.

Education and Outreach

ATC delivers inspiring experiences in a number of ways, both connected to our stage and beyond our walls, in schools, and across the state. Core programs of our education efforts include Summer On Stage, ATCteen, Student Matinees, and the Artist-In-Residence program.
