ARIZONA ARTISTS INITIATIVE: Arizonans take a leading role in everything we do. In addition to everyone on the staff page, we note individual artists who are from Arizona on shows.

On this original Arizona Theatre Company production, the ATC Production Staff is responsible for scenic construction, costume construction, lighting, projections, sound, props, furniture, wigs, scene painting, and special effects.

Cell phones and other devices that make a noise can greatly disturb your fellow audience members and the performers. PLEASE TURN THEM OFF before the performance.

Arizona Theatre Company operates under agreements between the League of Resident Theatres (LORT) and Actors' Equity Association, the Union of Professional Actors and Stage Managers in the United States; Stage Directors and Choreographers, an independent national labor union; and United Scenic Artists Local USA-829, IATSE.

The Actors and Stage Managers employed in these productions are members of Actors' Equity Association, the Union of Professional Actors and Stage Managers in the United States.

The Director is a member of the Stage Directors and Choreographers Society, an independent national labor union.

Scenic, Costume, Lighting, and Sound in LORT Theatres are represented by Union Scenic Artists Local USA-829, IATSE.

There's no better play to start the second half of our 55th Season than with the world premiere of Pru Payne. The relatability of this story and the challenges that growing older brings – combined with Steven Drukman's smart script and the creativity these talented actors bring to the stage – results in an incredible piece of artistry for our community.

This is also the time of year that we're busily planning the next season, negotiating contracts for upcoming shows, setting performance schedules, and getting ready to start subscription sales. Did you know that ATC subscribers make up more than three-quarters of our earned revenue from ticket sales?

So why become a season ticket holder? First, let's talk about the benefits to you.

1) Subscriptions offer the most economical ticket prices at nearly all price levels. You lock in your price before single tickets go on sale, and you can even purchase additional tickets for family and friends to join you during the season at 50% off single ticket prices.

2) Season ticket holders are the first seated before single tickets go on sale. You pick your series, and your seats are locked in. It's predictable. And if one of your series date doesn't work for you, your same-show tickets can be exchanged for another performance date without fees.

3) If you like flexibility, Flex Pass Advantage lets you purchase ticket vouchers that can be redeemed for tickets before single tickets go on sale or anytime during the season.

For ATC, season ticket holders and Flex Pass Advantage subscribers are among our most treasured partners. While some subscribers are new to us, others have been faithful theatre-goers for 20, 30, and even 40-plus years. That's an amazing legacy that we don't take for granted for a single minute. We're inspired by your commitment to ATC and value your input.

Finally, for ATC, season ticket sales bring early revenue to your theatre company and provide a strong foundation for the upcoming season. The vast majority of theatre expenses come before the show ever hits the stage, and your investment provides valuable resources for theatre creation.

If you're already an ATC subscriber, THANK YOU with all my heart. Watch for your renewal packet coming to mailboxes in mid-March. And if you love today's show, please consider joining ATC as a season ticket subscriber. You can visit ATC.org/subscribe or call our box office at 833-ATC-SEAT.

Fondly,

Geri Wright

LETTER FROM KASSER FAMILY ARTISTIC DIRECTOR MATT AUGUST

As one of the country's major Regional Theatres, ATC receives many script submissions from agents and authors seeking to get their work produced. There is no formula to figuring out which of those scripts will land with your audience, but the hope is that the play touches a nerve, and the play grows into some sort of wider cultural touchstone. However, when a play attracts actors the ilk of Mimi Kennedy and Gordon Clapp, you know you have a special script in hand that demands attention.

It is with the utmost pride that I welcome these two artists to our stage, after their illustrious and ongoing careers creating indelible characters on screen. It's truly a privilege to work with them, and for me in the case of Gordon, work with him again. These lovely, strong, yet delicate characters are being birthed and played here with emotional, funny, and complex performances by all these actors, with a master class being given by Mimi and Gordon. I'm sure you'll be deeply moved.

After Pru Payne, our season finishes with two powerhouse plays: Noël Coward's Private Lives and recent Tony winner Matthew Lopez's play The Legend of Georgia McBride. Our production of Private Lives will have a new take on this British comedy of manners, setting Act One in 1931 Argentina and Act Two in modern-day Uruguay, two analogous Latine societies to Coward's original setting. Lopez's Georgia McBride is a riotous comedy about an Elvis impersonator who loses his bookings and, in order to make ends meet for his family, finds new fortune in joining the spectacular drag act that has replaced him.

You won't want to miss either of these!

STEVEN DRUKMAN

Funny word: playwright – so often misspelled, given that “wright” and “write” are homonyms. But any playwright can tell you that plays are wrought – crafted – more than they’re written. You might ask four different wheelwrights to make you four different wheels; you wouldn’t ask any to write you one. Hand-wrought jewelry looks lovely on your wrist; it didn’t get there via haiku. The dramatist’s job is to construct an event, playing out in a circumscribed space, within a reasonable amount of time. Tools from the toolbox include stage directions, rising action, conflicts (internal and external), reveals, reversals – all embedded with different emphases, all inlaid in proper order. Yes, Shakespeare soliloquized, and Tennessee lilted lyrically, but in general, we playwrights leave the odes to Keats. We’re architects of beats.

Actors, eventually, become our co-builders, and I’m fortunate to have had the five creatures in this cast treading these boards. They flesh out my blueprint. They have skin in the game. Designers, too, check your program: they’ve provided shape and color. Technicians? Gobs of them. Prop masters. Stitchers. From the start there’s been an all-seeing director – in Pru Payne’s case, one of bottomless bonhomie. A stage manager, who manages. All of them, knitting and knotting this thing – it takes a love of labor to wright this labor of love.

And what sparked it all? Pru Payne was born of my unease when, back in 2016, an unruly populace signaled that our country’s standards were declining, that we’d shrugged off Enlightenment ideals long held sacred. I feared our species’ tendency to forget, knowing that if we consign our aspirations to oblivion, we might drift into this cultural amnesia, not unlike ... wait for it ... dementia. I’d had these stirrings before: in the 1980s, when our nation’s unmooring began, when the first wisps of brain fog appeared. I surmised that locating Pru Payne in that decade would cause my audience to wonder if we’ve slipped even further. (Another tool from the toolbox: dramatic irony.) So, I produced drafts – each draft rebuilding, ever renovating, and each draft now shredded, of no use to you. (When you remodel your home, the contractor doesn’t save you the sawdust.)

At the right moment, I loosened my grip on the wrenches: if a play’s almighty creator knows when to let go – mirabile dictu! – the characters take over, and reveal the play to their God-like architect. Turns out Pru Payne is a play about love. Love? Could this mean I believe in love’s power to reach across cultural difference, and that love might – just might – save our species? Criekey: What hath God wrought?

Labor and love – good watchwords. I am thankful that they were given to me in ample supply by everyone who had a hand in this conjuring. I thank Arizona Theatre Company for their faith, their commitment, and their real estate. And I thank you, all of you – the final makers of this concoction – for helping to finish this play, just by coming out to the theatre. I hope I did wright by you.

Who is a woman — an accomplished scholar — when stripped of her career, her prestige, her accolades and her resources?

What happens when all the layers of her esteemed identity are stripped away?

Stripped away due to illness and chance, and the defenses that have protected her her whole life are laid to rest?

What happens when she meets someone? Someone she may not have previously even considered because of money and class, someone deemed “Not Good Enough.”

But now ...

Now, this person sparks something.

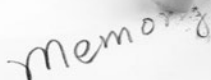

This person sparks a feeling. A feeling that is unprotected. It's pure and it's true, because all those defenses that defined her — her ironclad memory, her scalpel wit, her vicious pen — have all crumbled away and disappeared.

In this fraught moment between having everything, and having nothing, we meet the Real Woman.

The real Pru Payne.

And she is magnificent.

NOËL COWARD'S

PRIVATE LIVESDIRECTED BY
KJ SANCHEZCan't live with 'em, can't live without
'em.

Amanda and Elyot are enjoying a romantic honeymoon — just not with each other. This hilarious classic comedy filled with clever, witty barbs starts when an explosive divorced couple and their new spouses inadvertently honeymoon in adjacent rooms at the same hotel. When combustible chemistry reignites, mayhem occurs, and strong passions and stronger personalities take over. Noël Coward's most popular and enduring comedy is a funny, tempestuous battle of equals.

ARIZONA THEATRE COMPANY AT THE HERBERGER 222 E MONROE ST, PHOENIX

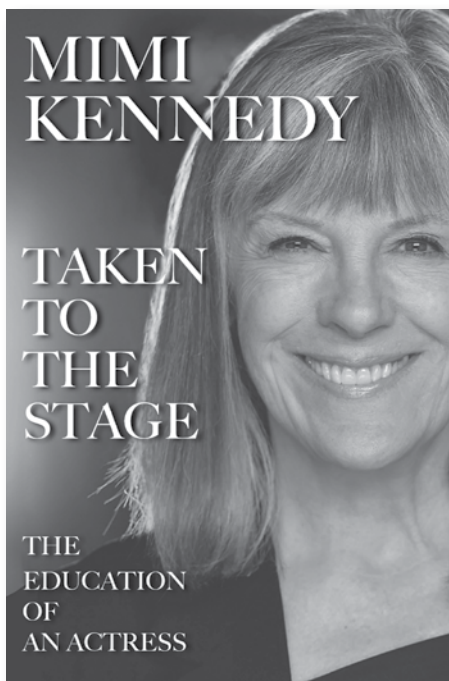

After decades of a successful career in television and film, Mimi Kennedy returns to the stage as Pru Payne. Kenndy's 1996 midlife memoir, Taken to the Stage: The Education of an Actress, is now available in paperback, eBook, and audiobook. Learn about Kennedy's beginnings as an actress: first on the community theatre stage as a child in Western New York and then her experiences in the 1970s New York City theatre scene – including her Broadway debut in the original production of Grease and what prompted her to be “taken to the stage” in the first place!

Kennedy's castmate on the comedy Mom, Allison Janney (The West Wing, Academy Award winner for I, Tonya), notes that words are Kennedy's specialty, and her gift for language comes across loud and clear in the book.

“On Mom, Mimi was our go-to person for the right word for anything,” Janney remarked. “This hilarious and touching memoir proves why. Her stories are wonderful and ring with familiar truths for anyone who acts ... for fun or for a living. I'm glad I had eight years with her on our show.”

Seasoned actor John Lithgow (The Crown, The Old Man, Emmy winner, and Academy Award nominee), also commented on Kennedy's book: “Taken to the Stage is a testament to the humor, self-knowledge, and wisdom of the splendid Mimi Kennedy. Her book is an actor's memoir, to be sure, and a fine one, but she has far more on her mind than just show business. She addresses her reader in snappy, delightful prose, like a warm-hearted friend with a hundred stories to tell. Some are funny, some are touching, and all of them expand our sense of Mimi — her career, her life, and her fabulous, frantic profession. Reading this lovely book, you savor it all.”

Taken to the Stage is for sale on Kennedy's website, mimi-kennedy.com, and dates for book signings with Arizona Theatre Company will be announced via email and on ATC's website and social media.

A big-hearted,
fierce, music-

Casey, an Elvis impersonator with everything going for him — including a flashy sequin jumpsuit — suddenly loses his gig, his rent is overdue, and his wife announces a baby on the way. So, when Elvis leaves the building and a drag show moves in, "The King" transforms into an all-out queen with some help from his new friends. With snappy zingers and dance-worthy numbers, this wildly entertaining story challenges assumptions with extraordinary humor and depth.

Tony Award-winning author Matthew Lopez is the 2020 recipient of the Drama Desk Award for Outstanding Play, Drama League Award for Outstanding Production of a Play, and GLAAD Media Award for Outstanding Broadway Production.

BAREFOOT IN THE PARK

by Neil Simon

Neil Simon's most beloved romantic comedy, Barefoot in the Park opens as blissful ambitious young newlyweds struggle to get along in their Manhattan fixer-upper apartment, all while under the gaze of the bride's neurotic mother and eccentric upstairs neighbor. In a case of opposites attract – Paul is a successful lawyer known for his conservative and practical nature and Corie is a sexy adventure seeker – they quickly face newlywed challenges that can try the best of marriages. Considered one of America's best rom-coms, Barefoot in the Park is among the top 10 longest-running non-musical plays in Broadway history, and it was turned into an Oscar-nominated movie.

12/8/23 - 12/30/23

SCROOGE: THE MUSICAL

By Leslie Bricusse

Adapted from the Oscar-nominated film Scrooge comes a Christmas musical spectacular by Oscar-winning, Grammy-winning, and Tony-nominated composer Leslie Bricusse. Scrooge: The Musical is a groundbreaking adaptation of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol filled with songs that are as impressive as the ones he wrote for Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory. The story follows the miserly Ebenezer Scrooge as he goes on a fantastical journey through his life over the course of a single Christmas Eve night. After a warning from the ghost of his business partner Jacob Marley, the Ghosts of Christmas Past, Present, and Future take Scrooge on a musical adventure that leads him towards his hopeful redemption. In a new version created uniquely for ATC, Scrooge will be the perfect holiday fare for families and audiences of all ages.

INTIMATE APPAREL

By Lynn Nottage

Two-time Pulitzer Prize-winning author Lynn Nottage's play Intimate Apparel tells the story of a 1905 successful African American seamstress who makes revolutionary undergarments for an array of women – from high-society socialites to enterprising ladies of the night. Her business acumen, innovative skills, and utter discretion are much in demand, but at 35, her personal life has taken a backseat. Intimate Apparel explores her forbidden relationships with an Orthodox Jewish fabric vendor, her privileged and struggling clientele, and a long-distance suitor who will profoundly change her life.

3/29/24 - 4/14/24

MASTER CLASS

by Terrence McNally

Master Class, the Tony-winning play by Terrence McNally, tells the story of the uncompromising opera diva Maria Callas as she delivers a life altering master class to students at an elite opera training program. During the class, she encounters three vastly different students who are by turns hilariously crushed, soulfully uplifted, and profoundly inspired by her singular artistry. Based on a series of real-life classes Callas delivered at Juilliard, Master Class inspires us, transports us, and transforms us by carving a window into the soul of one of the most complicated and celebrated artists of the 20th century who pushed the boundaries of artistic sacrifice and quality.

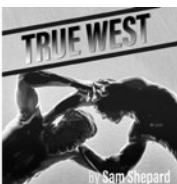

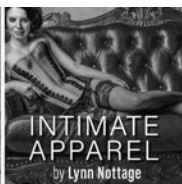

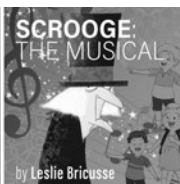

5/24/24 - 6/9/24

TRUE WEST

By Sam Shepard

Sam Shepard's Pulitzer finalist and Tony-nominated play True West is a Cain and Abel story of brotherly love and sibling rivalry set against the Dreams of the American West. Successful screenwriter Austin settles in to house-sit his mother's desert home to write his next screenplay, while his brother Lee, an alcoholic drifter, arrives to rob the neighborhood. A hysterically twisted story unfolds as the estranged brothers torment each other until they are forced to collaborate on a screenplay for Austin's producer with the promise of a huge Hollywood payday. Ultimately reversing roles and finding themselves in each other's shoes, the two brothers discover that this town 'aint big enough for the both of them.

ABOUT ATC

Arizona Theatre Company puts our artists and audience at the heart of all we do. ATC's performances bring people together on our stages to experience essential stories, from reimagined classics to contemporary plays, original works, and innovative musicals fostering continued conversation beyond the theatre walls.

Founded in 1966 and celebrating its 55th season, ATC is led by Executive Director Geri Wright and Kasser Family Artistic Director Matt August, and is recognized as the official State Theatre.

ATC shares the power of theatre through a variety of outreach programs, educational opportunities, access initiatives, and community events.

ATC'S MISSION

We create world-class theatre about what it means to be alive today – inspiring curiosity and creativity, sparking empathy and joy – bringing all Arizonans together.

ATC'S VISION

To transform the lives of every Arizonan through the power of theatre.

ATC supports its vital mission with these key initiatives:

ATC Mainstage

Each season, ATC produces six mainstage productions, bringing together the best talent from across Arizona, the country, and the world. ATC playwrights, directors, designers, actors, and production teams represent the finest artists and technicians working today.

Engagement in Phoenix and Tucson and Beyond

ATC operates in two major cities, unlike any other LORT theatre in the country, providing a place for communities across Arizona to gather, share, and explore the art-making process, reaching beyond the metropolitan areas of Tucson and Phoenix, enriching the theatre learning experience for all.

New Play Development

ATC provides playwrights and theater makers, both locally and internationally, a place to develop their work. Through workshops and readings, we give artists a place to incubate and launch productions, both at ATC and beyond. ATC is also proud to support emerging voices with the annual National Latinx Playwright Award.

Education and Outreach

ATC delivers inspiring experiences in a number of ways, both connected to our stage and beyond our walls, in schools, and across the state. Core programs of our education efforts include Summer On Stage, ATCteen, Student Matinees, and the Artist-In-Residence program.

Living Our Values (LOV) Initiative

We strive to put our values at the center of who we are and what we do – continuously connecting our audiences, artists, staff, and stakeholders to our core values, creating a true sense of belonging, equity, and diversity within the organization and the communities we serve. Nowhere is this more important than the work we build and perform on our stages.
